Coming Together

1999 L'Ami
Volume 65
George Fox
University

Walking through campus, students have the opportunity to talk with each other while enjoying the sunny day.

Making advantage of the quiet study area in the Lemmons Center, Thong Nguyen prepares for an exam.

During the Christmas candle lighting ceremony, Chantessa Bogdanov, Jill Schlander, and Matthew Henshaw participate in the evening's events.

Coming Together

Coming together is a reflection of a desire that we as students at George Fox University hope we can achieve while we live this part of

lives at this place of education and growth.

Our vision of coming together is exemplified by the feeling of community among the students as well as the welcoming of a new president and further building a close community. We must make our lives everything that we can. We need to learn

to exceed the expected and find God's will. It is when we learn to do these things that we find a way of Coming Together.

Activities

Getting Together

Students take advantage of ways to spend time together and make lasting memories.

It is important to the life of a college student to be able to participate in fun and rewarding activities. Activities on the George Fox campus range from those that involve specific talents, or those that are just meant to provide something for a student to do on a Friday night. The purpose of the activity is not what is important. What makes an activity memorable is that students are together and having fun!

Orientation MAKING FRIENDS AND STEPPING OUT

Freshman Orientation took on a slightly new face this year. Freshmen had the opportunity to finalize registration during the summer which left time for more activities. Activities included barbeques, games, and other ways to get to know each other. The theme of "Stepping Out" gave Freshmen the motivation to begin their new experience as a college student with enthusiasm and a feeling of adventure.

•Busily moving their belongings into the dorm, freshmen Nathaniel Colvin and Randy Kluver get ready for their first day at George Fox. •

•Advertising the campus ministries department, leaders within the department participate in the "get involved" afternoon. •

"I liked the O-Group experience because it made it possible to create long lasting friendships."
-Kristin Granlund

• Attending the family barbeque, Mary Martin shows the excitement of her first experiences at college. •

• Spending time with her family during an orientation activity, Danna Magnuson reads about one of the next events. •

• Orientation leader Erin Shank spends time to encourage the freshmen in her group to get to know each other. •

• Talking with prospective volunteers, the Communication Department staff explains ways to get involved with various groups. •

Concerts

TALENT AND ENTHUSIASM

 This year there seemed to include an abundance of concerts free to the student body. Some of the favorites included groups such as Reformation X, Hyper Static, and Jennifer Knapp. Students had the opportunity to listen to good tunes and have fun with friends.

 •Members of Reformation X Matthew Magee, Thomas Paine, and Stephanie Taylor entertain the students at their concert. •

•Reformation X bass player Jason Schwanz shows his musical talent and solid addition to the band. •

•George Fox student and member of Hyperstatic Union, Joe schlegel plays for the audience as they open the concert. •

Bruin Brawls

MUD AND COMPETITION

Bruin Brawls are an opportunity for students to compete for the possession of the infamous Bruin Jr. Students are allowed to display their aggression and competitiveness in a fashion that allows them to gain an advantage over other classes. Bruin Brawls allow students to compete for the glory of their class and continue the tradition of the Bruin Jr.

•One class got particularly creative for their bruin drop and arranged for the bruin to drop from a helicopter. •

•Students are filmed immediately after the Bruin Flash eagerly competing for the possession of the Bruin. •

•During a particularly wet and muddy bruin brawl, students forcefully attempt to gain control of the Bruin. •

Bruin Brawls

•James Kramer, Matt Olsen, Micheal Hampton, and other supporting cast members work on a group number at dress rehearsal. •

•To the tune of Me from Beauty and the Beast, Nick Willis shows his vocal talent through his performance. •

•Dan Hunt spell binds audiences singing "Your Eyes" from Rent. •

•During dress rehearsal, the female portion of the cast prepares to get into character for the upcoming performance. •

Night of Broadway CHARITY AND MUSIC

Thanks to the almost sell out crowds, Night of Broadway celebrated its first year as an official Doernbecker sponsor with the chance to give more than was anticipated. Students designed sets and lighting, helped with costumes, and choreography, and worked behind the scenes to keep the show running smoothly. Wendy Clarke and Leah Weare lead the cast and crew with support from the University. Among the show stoppers were hits from Rent, Newsies, Sunset Boulevard, Annie, and Titanic.

• Matt Olsen leads the cast in the opening number from Newsies.•

•Doing a song from Annie titled "Hard Knock Life" members of the cast entertain the audience with a very well known and loved tune.•

"I have been amazed by the cast and crew and by the way God has blessed our efforts."

-Wendy Clark

•Ben Frankamp and Josh Reid entertain the audience at Theater Games with their humorous antics and advanced thespian talents.•

•Karaoke night gave Dan Willis the opportunity to sing away!•

•Helping out with providing refreshments, Eric Lundeen makes rootbeer floats before Theater games.•

•James Kramer and Ben Smith compete for the lead in a game during the Beach Bash.•

"The 70's dance was way groovy and it was fun to go out with friends and have a ball. I love the chance to dress up funky."

-Carley Egelston

Fall Activities FUN AND GAMES

Fall activities gave the students a chance to get involved with making the campus an exciting place to be on the weekends. Activities included the 70's and 80's dances, as well as theatre games and karaoke. Coffee houses were also a part of the fun and students had the opportunity to start the year off with many different ways to spend their free time.

- Introducing the much loved and anticipated theatre games, Jamie Lunt shares in the limelight of the event. •

- Students rockin' out at the 70's dance. •

Winter Activities

A Jolly Ole' Time

Every winter, the George Fox University community comes together to celebrate the glorious birth of Christ. With a myriad of events going on around campus, there was certainly something for everyone. The Christmas season began with the annual candlelighting ceremony and the lighting of buildings on campus on December 2nd. Later that week, Fox's Christmas production, Masterpeace, appeared for its third straight year. It showcased the Handbell Choir, Concert Band, Concert Choir, and Dayspring; attracting a larger crowd than ever before. The following weekend attracted a more traditional audience with the annual Vespers service featuring the Bel Canto Singers and Chamber Singers and others. On the same night, the campus hosted its yearly Christmas party in the SUB complete with cookie decorating, face painting, and pictures with Santa himself. The event was open to the public and as always there was a good turnout.

- The Bel Canto singers sing out with great enthusiasm at vespers.•
- Everyone at the Christmas party enjoyed Micah Moss' clown outfit and artful face paintings.•

•The University concert band performs at the Masterpeace performance. •

•The conert choir's performance was the highlight of this year's Masterpeace. •

The fall retreat was a wonderful time of worship and fun. Bill Jastrum from the Tualitin Foursquare Church was the guest speaker and he spoke about the Holy Spirit and Prayer. After the worship times, small groups would come together to share and pray. During breaks there was time for hiking in the forest, ultimate frisbee, hanging out, and napping. "God granted us with great weather and a great time of fellowship. Go God!" -Jonathan Morell.

•Worship was one of the main focuses of the fall retreat. •

•Watch out Ezra... Sam Monte and Aaron Routon show their drumming skills. •

"Students were so filled with joy and excitement they pulled back the chairs to shout and dance before the Lord. It was a amazing sight."

-Julie Handyside

•Peeking over her cards, Megan Collins-Richard plays an intense game of Uno. •

•Mindy Koopmans, Jenny Graff, and Kara Collatt don't risk the guys cooking and go for cereal instead. •

•Justin Burch, Jerrah Vail, and Kevin Schilperoort relax after a long day of activities. •

.....
 What a week! Homecoming was a BLAST...glow in the dark bowling, movie night, Winterhawks game, midnight breakfast, powder puff game and a bruin brawl. Dress-up days included pajamas, ski, Hawaiian, 70's, celebrity, and Homecoming t- shirt day. Ezra Rice was declared king and Hope Baldwin was crowned queen. Members of the court included Jeff Wells, Josh Turpen, Thomas Payne, Micah Moss, Anthony Kaufman, Becky Portman, Elizabeth James, Sharon Barnett, Kristina Hanson, and Tori Taylor.

 •Bruin Brawl during Homecoming week becomes a muddy affair. •

•Jason Baugh, Ron Gulley, Rob Haynes, Micah Moss, and Brad Johnson display their keen fashion sense for the basketball game. •

"Powder Puff was the best part of the whole week."
 -Amanda Hallmeyer

•Jason Lange and Julia Fisher wait in line for some yummy food from the midnight breakfast. •

•Tim Helmboldt demonstrates his 'flying' abilities. •

•Providing quality entertainment for the crowd at the powderpuff game, the George Fox "cheerleaders" display their diverse talents. •

Fly Me Carnival GOOD TIMES AND DISNEYLAND

.....
What would you do to win a trip to Disneyland? Two students, Sarah Taylor and Crystal McAlpin, had the opportunity to fly to Anaheim, stay in the Disneyland Hotel, and play in Disneyland for three days, all courtesy of ASC. The carnival also proved to be fun for everyone who didn't get to fly away for the weekend. There were a number of games, including Bingo, Cake Walk, and game which offered goldfish as the prize. Cotton candy and face painting were also provided. The evening turned out to be a blast for all who attended.

•The lucky winners, Sarah Taylor and Crystal McAlpin, show their enthusiasm and surprise as their names are announced. •

•Leslie Sesser paints the face of Desiree Somner during the carnival •

"I was happy because I won a carrot cake!"
-Robyn Chacko

•Digging around in her bucket, Erin McKinney, is pulling out the winning number for the Cake Walk.•

•This group of students are concentrating on the intense round of Bingo they are paying.•

•Tiffany Smith and Nicole Hood enjoy the free cotton candy offered to all people in attendance.•

•Paige Orton puts her miniature golfing skills to work as she attempts to get the ball in the hole.•

Spring Retreat WORSHIP AND RELAXATION

The spring retreat was a time for students to get away from campus and homework, and spend a weekend renewing their minds and bodies. The retreat was held at Camp Wi-ne-ma on Neskowin Beach. Students enjoyed the sand and and played football and frisbee on the beach. Throughout the weekend, four students shared stories and gave short sermons to the other students. The entire weekend was student run, including preparation of all the meals. Each evening the students took part in a time of praise and worship, which uplifted the spirits of everyone.

•Erin Hatch helps Ezra Rice lead worship by playing the bongo drums. •

•A group of students spend time in intercessory prayer after a session. •

"I remember everyone was playing on the beach and then all of a sudden we all stopped what we were doing and turned towards the sunset and sang praise songs to God. It was amazing!"

-Rebecca Martin

•Allison Camp and Katy Schnitker spend some time relaxing during the weekend. •

•The Chapel Band, Ezra Rice, Kristi Barnes, and Jared Hinkle, lead the singing during a worship session. •

•A group of students and their leaders, spend time praying for one another and reflecting on what God is doing in their lives. •

Mr. Bruin T I M E AND S E R V I C E

The third annual Mr. Bruin Pageant turned out to be a huge success. Twelve students, three from each class, were chosen by their classmates to represent the student body. The contestants spent weeks perfecting their dance moves, as well as giving up their free time to the Interfaith Volunteer Caregivers association. They raised money and labored for the organization. The contestants had to compete in talent, evening wear, and response to questions. The evening proved to be fun for everyone, but especially for Daniel Hunt, because he was crowned Mr Bruin 1999.

•Contestant Andrew Fodge, was escorted by our own Jack from Marriott. •

•The guys opened the pageant with their long awaited dance routine, which they spent many hours working on. •

"They all deserve to be Mr. Bruin!"
-Daniel Hunt

•Brian Cox is escorted by a member of Newberg's elderly community. •

•Mr. Bruin 1999 contestants: Chad Pohlman, Brian Cox, Nathan Beget, Andrew Fodge, Eric Costa, Philip Jess, and Mike Dahl. Benjamin Macy, Keith Wade, Daniel Hunt, Neil Cantrall, and Jacob Kuntz. •

•The emcees for the evening, Karin Klinger and Jeff Simons, find a way to entertain the audience between talent performances. •

Making $200 can be easy as cake if you are a group of students singing along with Veggie Tales and Weird Al. This year's Lip Sync Contest consisted of four diverse groups. The first place prize went to a group of students, who performed a medley of music. The other acts varied from En Vogue's "Never Gonna Get It," to the "Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy," and a song led by Darren Weidman and Andrew Fodge. The student body had the opportunity to vote on a 1 to 5 scale for each group. Then the ballots were all counted. Each group worked hard and provided great entertainment.

•As the emcee for the night, Shaun McNay took the liberty to promote his favorite bottled water brand. •

•Robin Root and Sarah Roberts sing and dance to the "Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy," which won them second place in the contest. •

•Dressed as "Larry the Cucumber," Benjamin Kroon leads his group medley to victory. •

•Singing with attitude, Rachel Bellamy, Crista Hurt, Kristal Wright, and Sarah Lawrence perform to the song "Never Gonna Get It," by En Vogue. •

•During the contest, Elvis Presley made a special appearance. The audience was allowed to ask "The King" questions, while Neal Cantrall translated them in Spanish. •

.....Fox Film Festival.....

 The second annual Fox Film Festival proved to be a great success. The event was well publicized and students had the opportunity to choose from three different showing times. The films included in the Festival were "Foe," "Wherefore Romeo?" "The Way She Loves Me," and "Blameless."

•Ron Davis entertains the festival goers as they enter Wood-Mar with his piano playing. •

•Thomas Payne performs the song that he and Joshua Napier wrote for Jason Miller's film, entitled "The Way She Loves Me." •

•As producer of the Fox Film Festival, Seth Himes takes the stage to welcome everyone to the movie premiere. •

CAFFEINE AND CONVERSATION

In late February, the campus was given a new addition, which was the long awaited Foxhole coffee house. The Foxhole gave students a place where they could hang out from 9 pm to 1 am every Monday thru Thursday and purchase cheap drinks made by their fellow classmates. Some students used the Foxhole as a hang out while others used it as a place to study.

•Sarah Lawrence and Andrea Connell wait in line to buy drinks. •

•Rebecca Jellum and Leah Weare, both employees of the Foxhole, make drinks for students. •

•Tristan Devin and Aaron Fuller converse while enjoying their drinks. •

Spring Formal DANCING AND MEMORIES

.....
The theme of this year's Spring Formal was "Sentimental Journey." The Activities Committee worked hard to get the student body excited about the formal. They provided swing dancing lessons for everyone and advertised the function well. The event was held at Montgomery Park in Portland, which was beautifully decorated. Many services were provided for students, such as carriage rides through Portland, caricatures, pictures, and good food. The music was provided by a Big Band, which played a variety of music styles.

•Heidi Vander Stoep and Neil Cantrall spend the evening dancing the night away. •

•Travis Tobin literally sweeps his date, Crista Hurt off of her feet. •

"Formal was fun because we got to dance and spend time with friends in a nice place."
-Lizzie Weiss

•A strategic view of the dance floor at Montgomery Park shows that people are having fun dancing. •

•Dressed to kill, Andrew Fodge, Carrie Russo, Jonathan Rickey, and Angela Cornelius arrive at the Formal in style. •

The class of 1999 is the largest the school has ever had. With its 457 spring graduates and 35 fall graduates, this class surpassed all others. As graduation came closer, students felt the stresses of finishing up their classes and trying to find jobs. They realized that they were heading into the real world and hoped that the skills they aquired at George Fox would help them become successful. The graduation speaker was William Pannell, whose message to graduates was to realize that the American culture is "in denial" and see the truth.

•President David Brandt gives a happy Heather Anderson her diploma. •

•Hope Baldwin, Kristi Barnes, and Stacy Baugh get ready to move their tassels. •

"Graduation wraps up the best years of my life. I will miss my friends, teachers, and community."
-Ellen Friberg

•Christi Cannon walks to her seat during the procession of graduates. •

•Time has come for the graduates to move their tassels from one side to the other at Fall Commencement. •

•The graduates wait patiently as their fellow classmates receive their diplomas. •

Sports

Playing Together

Students find competition and unity through participation on sports teams.

This idea of coming together is greatly exemplified through the sports teams at George Fox. Student Athletes are encouraged to succeed in not only their athletic endeavors, but in life endeavors as well. Athletes work hard. They practice, they play, they commit numerous hours to a sport they love. Through this challenge and commitment they commit to each other, and that is what coming together is all about.

WOMEN'S SOCCER

Led by coach Byron Shenk, our Lady Bruin's had an extraordinary season. Breaking many old records, this year's team now holds records for the most wins in a season, most consecutive wins, most consecutive games without a loss, most shutouts and fewest goals allowed in school history. A combination of the unpenetrable defense, the sure-footed offense and teamwork allowed the Lady Bruin's to dominate this season. "The team worked really well together on and off the field. Our team unity kept growing each game," said freshman Karli Holub.

While their team effort proved successful, many individual performances were commended. Seniors April Sterhan and Sarah Bowder received all-Northwest Conference Honorable Mention as a defender and 1998 Northwest Conference first team honors respectively. Freshmen Karli Holub and Beth Liljenberg, are the Bruin's first women's players to achieve NAI All-American Honorable Mention status. Megen Diefenbaugh and Kyla Yokers got academic all-american. Sarah, Karli, and Beth made NW NAIA region. Jenn Overstreet made second team NW NAIA all-region.

MEN'S SOCCER

Wade Fleming, a senior and leading goal scorer, skillfully takes possession of the ball and heads downfield.

The men's soccer team was off to a great start in the 1998 season with a 10-4-1 record, pulling the team up to No. 19 on the ranks of the NAIA national poll. The team's successful beginning record began to suffer when they lost seven games by one-goal margins. However, this did not stop the Bruins from continuing on to the post season. The season came to a close in Burnaby, British Columbia as the defending NAIA national champions, Seattle University, challenged our men in the Northwest Regional Semifinals. Wade Fleming, Curtis Selby and Josh Turpen were named to the NAIA all-Pacific Northwest Region team this year. This year was especially important for nine seniors as they have put their heart and soul into the team for the past four years.

Records are made to be broken. They create a desire in people to rise to the challenge. The Lady Bruins accepted that challenge. The Bruins proved, with their almost flawless conference play that the season was just getting started. With only a few losses behind them, and first time Northwest Conference title, they advanced to the NAIA Northwest Sectional Tournament. After placing second, they continued on to the NAIA Pacific Northwest Regional Tournament. Again placing second, the Lady Bruins went on to the NAIA National Tournament. This was the most successful Bruin volleyball season ever. Along with amazing achievements as a team there were several individual recognitions as well. The team included two All-Americans, and three All-American Scholar Athletes, as well as several girls named to All-Conference Teams. Overall, they broke five school records as a team and nine as individuals. Coach Steve Grant commented on the season by saying, "I am tremendously satisfied. I can't say enough about how hard the ladies worked. They are the best we've ever had at George Fox." With great players and a great coach it was no surprise that the team was able to excel as far as they did.

Another perfect dig proves Rachel Evans is worthy of her ranking as one of the top ten passers in George Fox history. She was also recognized as a National Scholar Athlete.

MEN'S CROSS-COUNTRY

Senior Eric Thompson paces himself at one of the many meets he ran during his four year career at Fox.

This year's Men's Cross Country team had a most rewarding season. This is partly because of the new and not seen before talent but also because of, as Coach Wes Cook put it, "The athletes came together and committed themselves to excellence and each other." This teamwork approach enable the team to travel to compete in the NAIA championships this year. Eric Thompson says "This season was a storybook ending for my career as a competitive Cross Country runner, here at Fox." Many would agree that with a large turnout for a team, young and veteran runners, the men's team was bound to succeed.

WOMEN'S CROSS-COUNTRY

The Women's Cross Country team had an excellent overall season this year. The girls team was a little bit bigger than the men's but all of the women showed their talent at some point during the season. It was the last year to compete in Kenosha, it will be missed but time will only keep memories of those meets. Jamie McElwain had this to say about the season and the overall perspective of the year, "It was a great opportunity to learn about self determination, team power and trusting God to take us where we did not know it was possible to go. The team knew it was possible to go to Nationals, but little did they know all they would learn and do while there. This season was rewarding for both the men and women. If we have half the turnout we did this year we should be in good shape."

Junior Tracey Hyde maintains her concentration as she nears the end of a race.

As Jamie McElwain continues a steady pace, she demonstrates why she was named most improved this season.

Wendy Clark skillfully passes the ball around the opponent. Passing was a key factor in this game against Pacific University.

Becky Thompson is cleverly holding off her opponent while she decides to whom she wants to pass the ball. Quick thinking and effective ball handling helped the team score.

Women's Basketball

The 1999 women's basketball team had a very successful season. With only six losses and eighteen wins, their record was one of the best ever in history of Lady Bruins. This year two team members were named NAIA All-American Scholar Athletes. The first, Rachel Powell, led the Northwest Conference with 1.4 blocks per game. The second, Katie Grellar, won NAIA honorable mention All-American as well as first-team all-Northwest Conference. NAIA Division II No. 24-ranked George Fox posted its best winning percentage in school NAIA history. The Lady Bruins also tied the school record of eight consecutive wins. Overall the team had a great year. They earned a lot about basketball, and about each other.

Nicole Prazeau is reaching high as she takes a shot. During practices the team continually worked towards increasing the height of their jumps.

WEN'S BASKETBALL

Overall, the George Fox University Men's Basketball team could not have asked for a better season. This season, sophomore Jordan Green became the second consecutive Bruin to earn the Northwest Conference scoring title. Green excelled in every category, but specifically shooting. He had a career high of points in a game against Lewis & Clark. Mark Vernon was named Coach of the Year for the NAIA division II Pacific Northwest region who led the Bruins in a surprisingly successful season, both statistically and as a team. "Team unity was especially good this year, there were no small groups. We were all in it together." "There were no expectations whatsoever, so we surprised a lot of people by making it to the playoffs" said junior post, Tim Büchsel. This season was the last for two senior players, Tony Dohren and Mike Faber. Senior Mike Faber did not miss a game during his collegiate career as a George Fox University Bruin. The majority of this season's games were well attended by students and faculty. The fans provided a lot of cheering and support as the Bruins shot their way through the season, finishing 6th in the league.

SOFTBALL

The Lady Bruins had a challenging yet successful year. With a roster consisting of five freshmen, zero seniors, and a total of 11 players, the team worked hard to make a name for themselves in the conference. The team overcame numerous injuries, academic absences, and other obstacles to end with a rewarding season. The Lady Bruins came within one win of having a winning season, but despite their losses they proved to be a tough and talented team. Six players hit better than .300 for the season. Rebecca Dean held the team high .414 batting average, Rachel Camp led the team in RBI and doubles while also hitting .412. Beth Davis batted .395 and earned a team high six triples and 30 runs. Anita Orlowski also hit .342 for the season and led the team home run record with three. In the end, the 1999 softball team showed incredible determination and looked to the future for more success.

While warming up before the game, Brittany Baird fields the ball before throwing it back to her partner.

Reaching out to catch the ball, Beth Davis makes sure to successfully complete the play and make the out.

BASEBALL

The George Fox Bruin baseball team had an incredible season. The team achieved many team goals as well as earning numerous personal achievements. The team surpasses the .704 mark set during the 1994 season as well as averaging 2.38 home runs per game. The team also beat the oldest record in George Fox baseball history, the team beat the 1975 batting record of .337 with a yearly average of .382.

On an individual basis, outfielder Ryan LeBreton was named Pacific Northwest Region Player of the week as well as being engaged in a home run run-off with fellow senior Nate Barnett.

The team looks forward to more success in the years to come as many of the very talented and successful team members return for another great season.

MEN'S TRACK

The 1999 men's track season was a great success. The team finished 2nd at the Northwest Conference Championships and advanced to the Northwest Regional Championships. Nearly forty athletes from Fox were in attendance at the Regionals where there were teams representing NAIA, NCAA Div.II, and Div.III schools.

Rounding the corner on the final stretch of the race, Lafe Paulson and Eric Thompson finish a long race.

Not only did the team do well as a whole, but many individuals had great success in their respective events. David Parker won the 110 meter hurdles with the second fastest time in GFU history at the Northwest Conference Championships. David Parker also qualified for Nationals. Brandon Workman had great success in distance events as well as qualifying for nationals with the steeplechase.

A quote from coach Wes Cook sums up the season well, "The men battled hard, had some great results..."

Eric Costa gets a strong start for his relay.

WOMEN'S TRACK

Showing perfect form and working hard toward another victory, Heidi Smith competes in the long jump.

The George Fox women's track team had a very rewarding and successful season. The team worked hard to prepare themselves for this season and many talented runners added to the success of the team. The women's track team was lead by a strong group of upper classmen as well as a solid base of younger runners. The team accomplished many goals and proved that they are a strong contender for many successful seasons to come.

Warming up before her meet, Amy Weybright works toward making sure she is ready for her race.

Taking the lead for her relay team, Sharon Barnett contributes to another victory for the Lady Bruins.

Edging out her opponent during a meet, Jaime McElwain gains the lead in her race.

WOMEN'S TENNIS

This season was a growing experience for the Lady Bruins. Finishing 10th in the Northwest Conference, the women's tennis team worked hard to make a name for themselves in the conference.

Despite the somewhat challenging season for the rest of the team, senior Shawna Hughes had a very rewarding year. Shawna was recognized by the coaches in the conference and received a spot on the all-Northwest Conference second team. She is the only No.1 singles player in the history of the George Fox Women's tennis program to achieve this. Shawna competed in the NAIA Regional Tournament at University of Puget Sound and reached the quarterfinals.

Overall, this season was one of many challenges and exciting times. This team will continue to grow and improve and they look forward to even more successful times in the future.

Showing great concentration and focusing on the return, Jennie Sexton watches her opponent.

Working hard to prepare to return a serve, Shawna Hughes keeps herself prepared to return the ball.

MEN'S TENNIS

The men's tennis team had a successful season. The success of the season placed the men in the 7th place for the second year in the Northwest Conference. Ryan Cruz, Justin Ubel, and Thong Nguyen all won their matches to help the Bruins claim their place in the tournament. In addition to the success of the team, there were many individual players who excelled as well. Ryan Cruz and Todd Hammans reached the Regional Final Four at the NAIA Pacific Northwest Regional Championship. The tournament held at Puget Sound proved to be a successful event for the team as they finished 4th of 6 teams.

DANCE TEAM

The GF dance team's first year was a hot one. The team gained club status at the end of the year last year, and auditions brought out the hidden talent at Fox. After their debut performance received a standing ovation, the team continued to shine at the homecoming events with a steady rhythm and a passion for dance. Team President Robin Root and Vice President Amber Hamilton have worked hard to bring the team into existence.

CHEERLEADERS

The cheerleading squad this year was one of the biggest squads Fox has ever seen. With some fresh new talent and the returning veterans the squad was able to successfully entertain the crowds at basketball games. Tara Herrmann says that "it was a hard but rewarding year. The squad had to endure various injuries but continued to provide fun entertainment for the GFU community."

The squad: Lynette Garcia, Lisa Schave, Melissa Warner, Meadowlark Martine, Lori Weiss, Carrie Crowland, Jenalee Troyer, Tara Herrmann, Jennifer Irish, and Meghan Maxwell.

Meghan Maxwell and Lynette Garcia entertain the crowd with their cheer.

While being supported by the rest of the squad, Tara Herrmann shows one of the difficult lifts.

INTRAMURALS

The intramural program gave an opportunity for fun yet serious competition. Students are able to participate in athletic events that are outside the varsity sports teams or even P.E. classes. Intramural sports include volleyball, soccer, wallyball, floor hockey, wiffleball, basketball, and many more. Students enjoyed the opportunity to compete with each other in an informal setting and to compete in a sport that they enjoy. Sophomore Cami Schlott said, " I really liked playing in intramurals throughout the year because it gave me a chance to play the sports I like and see my friends." Most intramural sports were played in the Wheeler gymnasium area, although some sports such as wiffleball were played on the lawn. In all, the competition for those grand prize T-Shirts shows the amount of energy students put into their sports and how much they enjoy the opportunity to participate in these activities.

In an attempt to score another goal, Justin Burch chases the puck as his teammates look on.

Wade Niewert takes a approaches the puck to make a shot at the goal.

Clubs

Joining Together

Students are given the opportunity to take part in clubs that encourage creativity and unity.

Students not only lead busy lives with school, work, sports, and friends, but many students also find the time to join clubs around campus. By participating in different clubs and organizations students are able to display their talents and contribute to building unity on campus. Students work in the communications department, perform in various bands and choirs, and even join groups that further their artistic talents. No matter what group students take part in, clubs offer students the opportunity to join together.

The goal of the ASC is to reach out to students, work with them, and get them involved. They look after the concerns and questions of the student body. According to Hope Baldwin, "Interacting with students, getting to plan events for the school, and working with people who are excited about what they are doing and seeing the being used by God is amazing." ASC is the student's connection with the school, if they want something to get done they go to the ASC. ASC's motto is: "exceeding the expected in serving our fellow students with humility, integrity, and the love of Christ." "My main purpose in ASC is to serve people." Brian Durick Campus Ministries is one of the parts of ASC that responds to a calling of service. Students organize clubs and committees that seek to serve the people in our community and beyond. The student chaplain's committee organizes things such as over the edge and greenroom, as well as chapels and retreats. The Urban services' activities include street ministries on Friday nights in Portland where students spend time with the homeless either by conversation or serving food. Students involved with senior services work together with Friendsview Manor by putting together parties and social events in hopes of serving our Senior community. The Little Bruin program seeks to give elementary age children in the Newberg area a positive role model in their lives. The Community Services aspect of Campus Ministries seeks to serve our Newberg Community by taking part in things such as mentoring with YCAP and participating in the Newberg F.I.S.H program.

The student run organizations that make up the communication department work hard to ensure that students receive something that they will enjoy. The Crescent produces weekly newspapers that give students updates on campus events and issues. KFOX has made some incredible improvements this year including excellent programing and a great D.J. staff. The L'Ami seeks yearly to produce a yearbook that students will appreciate for many years to come. The darkroom works hard to cover events and make sure they are documented through pictures for use in the newspaper, yearbook, and other ASC promotions. All of the facets of the communication department work together on behalf of the entire student body to produce something that is enjoyed by the entire George Fox Community.

Serve Trips

Many students this year chose to give of themselves to help those in need around the country. Serve Trips happen at the end of Christmas Break and also during Spring Break. Students had the opportunity this year to participate in trips to places such as Los Angeles, Pasadena, Seattle, Mexico, Idaho, and many other places. Duties included everything from working with children, to building houses, or serving at shelters. No matter what the task was, students gave of themselves to help others.

During the Art Happening, Steve Schmidt demonstrates his skills on the pottery wheel.

Micah Moss seeks approval of his work from Jenny Graff who is focused on her own piece of artwork.

Chelsea Dauber makes signs for the Art Happening. Dauber was in charge of organizing all the children's activities for the art happening.

A few words from the Art Club President Micah Moss: "When starting the Art Club, I imagine the situation was similar to those who first tried wearing pants. After experiencing mild discomfort and adjusting here and there, it just felt right- and I couldn't imagine life without it. Next year looks wonderful; we've got our sea legs now, and our vessel's a sturdy one. We're hoping to welcome established artists aboard, get our hands into different types of art, and satisfy other crazy schemes hatched during our jolly meetings. I need to thank all those who took time out of their year to open their minds to art, and have some fun. In the end, you people are the club, not a one hundred dollar bill fom ASC (if that were the case, my wardrobe would be five garments larger). Thank you everyone."

Performing Together

Extraordinary talent lies in the body of the George Fox community.

The George Fox University community is blessed with incredible talent that students display through their involvement in fine arts activities. Students showcase their talents through drama, choir, bands, and orchestras. All of this amazing talent is concentrated in the body of the George Fox University community and that desire to share those gifts adds so much to the feeling of unity on the George Fox campus.

People Faces Together

The unique faces and experiences that people of the George Fox community bring to each other are what make the lasting memories of our college experience.

The George Fox community is made up of many different faces and experiences. It is the differences that we all bring to this community that makes George Fox a wonderful place to be. Students enjoy being together and getting to know each other . These faces that we go to class with, live with, and play with are all those that make our experiences memorable. These faces make up our memories and will stay with us forever .

Coming Together

The meaning behind this theme is to encourage the idea that George Fox University is not only a university, but most importantly, a community. We come together as a community in all that we do, and we hope this book exemplifies some of those times.

The making of this book took the efforts and hard work of many people.

First of all, to my dear friend and Assistant Editor, Robyn Chacko. Thank you for all of your many hours and hard work. There's nothing quite like spending 15 hours straight in the yearbook office!!

To the 1998-1999 L'Ami staff: Elise, Allison, Amanda, Danna, Deanna, Sara, Jenny, and Doug - Thank you!! You were all such a great help to Robyn and I, and all of your work has not gone unnoticed.

To Carley Egelston, for being there for us and being so encouraging and supportive.

To Elise and the Darkroom staff. Thank you for the hundreds of pictures.

To Corrie Chasteen and Celeste Shults, thanks for all the help and advice. I thank you for your confidence in me, and I hope you enjoy your last L'Ami.

To Annette Johnson, our Herff Jones Representative. I appreciate all of the time you spent with us and the effort you put into helping us make a quality book.

And to the rest of you.....this has been a great experience and we hope you enjoy the book.....

-Amy
